

Call for Applications: Trinity Long Room Hub and Heyman Center Visiting Fellowships for Tenured and Tenure-Track Faculty

Deadline Extension: 5 February 2018

The Trinity Long Room Hub (TLRH)—the humanities center of Trinity College Dublin—and the Society of Fellows and Heyman Center for the Humanities (SoF/HCH) at Columbia welcome applications from tenured and tenure-track faculty for jointly-sponsored short-term visiting fellowships.

Beginning in 2018, the TLRH and the SoF/HCH will annually award fellowships to allow at least one member from each of our respective communities to take up residence (normally, for a period of four to six weeks, excluding the months of June, July, and August) at the other's institution. Tenured and tenure-track faculty in the arts, humanities, and humanistic social sciences are eligible to apply. While Fellows will be essentially free to pursue their own research projects, they will be expected to interact with faculty, research scholars, and other visiting faculty and fellows who are also in residence during the time of the fellowship and to give a few presentations of their work.

These fellowships will cover the costs of travel, accommodation, and living expenses up to a maximum of $5K or the equivalent of €5K (whichever is greater) on a receipt basis, in line with Columbia's expense policy.

Application Requirements:

- Research Proposal (1500 words)
- Cover Letter, giving a brief description (200 words) of the project to be undertaken and commenting on why a short-term residency in Dublin/New York would be particularly beneficial and would align with the mission of the Trinity Long Room Hub/Society of Fellows and Heyman Center for the Humanities.*
- Curriculum Vitae

Submission Guidelines:

Applications must be submitted as a single Word or PDF document, containing all materials noted above. Label the file thus: Last Name, First Name—Heyman-Hub Fellowship 2018 (e.g., "Hamilton, Alexander—Heyman-Hub Fellowship 2018"). Send the application file as an attachment in an email to: heymanhubfellowships@columbia.edu
